

Jon Nomura
Director of Securitization - Accounting
American Honda Finance Corporation

Jon Nomura is the Director of Securitization at American Honda Finance Corporation (AHFC), located in Torrance, California. Shortly after graduating from California State University, Los Angeles, Jon began his career with AHFC in 1980, at the inception of the company. Over the last 25 years, Jon has developed and managed all areas of Accounting, Accounting Systems, Finance, Taxes and Budget/Forecasting. In August, 2000, Jon accepted the newly created position of Director of Securitization, to further develop and enhance AHFC's securitization program. Jon's prior ABS experience included the back end financial analysis, accounting and servicer reporting for AHFC's ABS transactions. In May, 2005, in addition to securitizations, his responsibilities were expanded to manage all external financial reporting, income tax and deferred like kind exchange reporting, and compliance in the areas of accounting, S.E.C. reporting and Sarbanes-Oxley.

AHFC is a wholly owned subsidiary of American Honda Motor Co., Inc, the distributor of all Honda products in the United States. AHFC provides consumer loan and lease financing for new and used Honda/Acura products. In addition, AHFC provides floor plan financing and commercial loans for authorized Honda and Acura dealers. AHFC has securitized auto loans and auto leases through public owner trust, lease trust, and grantor trust transactions, as well as private ABCP transactions through bank conduits, since 1992.
