

Robert Camilleri
Senior Manager, Credit, Aviva Investors Australia

Rob is Senior Manager, Credit at Aviva Investors Australia (formerly Portfolio Partners) and has over 14 years of industry experience. He is designated dealer, senior member of the Credit Research team, Deputy Portfolio Manager of the High Yield Trust, Portfolio Manager for the short duration funds and International exposures. Robert joined Portfolio Partners in 1998 following the merger with Norwich Investment Management, where he started as a Money Market Dealer before joining the Credit team. Previously, Rob was Quantitative Methods Analyst with ANZ treasury. He also lectures in the education arm of the ASF on securitisation. In 2007 he was voted Bond Personality of the Year by his peers with INSTO.

Many of Rob's ideas for change and improvement in the debt markets have been adopted by the Transparency Task Force which will be developing new standards of Issuance and reporting, valuation methodologies and investor education. He is currently participating in the Global Study on the present crisis run by the McKinsey in the US and locally he has been involved with the current ASIC CRA review. He holds a B.Bus Economics and Finance, Taxation Dip Financial Services (Financial Planning), Associate Diploma International Trade, SMSF Specialist, MTMA and has been identified as a Thought Leader in the Financial Services Industry and been invited to become a Member of the Society of Industry Leaders.